

STORYTELLER 1: Once upon a time, there was little ogre named Shrek, who lived with his parents in a bog by a tree.

STORYTELLER 2: It was a pretty nasty place, but he was happy because ogres like nasty.

STORYTELLER 3: On his birthday, the little ogre's parents sat him down to talk, just as all ogre parents had for hundreds of years before.